the GARST museum

The Garst Museum, a historical museum with roots in the American experience, houses over 300,000 artifacts on display in 35,000 square feet of exhibit space within six major and two minor venues. The Garst House, which earlier served as an inn, has five additional building wings. The house was donated to the Darke County Historical Society in 1946 by the Garst family.

NATIONAL ANNIE OAKLEY CENTER

Walk with Annie Oakley as you visit the National Annie Oakley Center at Garst Museum. Unlike Hollywood's image of a wild west, rough and tumble tomboy, Annie was a petite woman who loved lace, silver, beautiful furnishings and elegant clothing. Blessed with physical athleticism, she excelled in a man's world and never forgot her roots in Darke County, Ohio.

CROSSROADS OF DESTINY

Crossroads of Destiny is a stunning exhibit telling the history of the Treaty of Greene Ville and the largest stockade fort ever built in North America. Fort Greene Ville was the scene of the most significant American Indian treaty ever negotiated. The Treaty of Greene Ville of 1795 opened the door to the settlement of the Midwest and resulted in Ohio statehood eight years later. The Treaty also ended forty years of conflict over the upper Ohio Valley.

LOWELL THOMAS

The name Lowell Thomas evokes a number of images—adventurer, explorer, world traveler, and author. This exhibit is filled with numerous artifacts from historic figures that Lowell Thomas met, interviewed and befriended during his worldwide travels and career (especially Lawrence of Arabia).
